

MAKING A REFERRAL

We are more than happy to discuss any questions or concerns you may have about someone you care for or are working with. Give our friendly team a call.

You can also use our simple screening tool which may help you decide whether contacting us is the best option.

Please visit www.thebasekirklees.co.uk for more information.

We work with young people who have given us their consent, so please discuss their agreement with them before making a referral. If a person doesn't consent to a referral and you are concerned about them, please call us to discuss other ways we may be able to help support you.

Referrals can be made by:

Once we receive a referral, it will be allocated to a project worker who will make arrangements for an initial meeting with the young person.
